The "thinking" tractor. 1986 saw a major milestone as Massey Ferguson became the first farm machinery manufacturer to put microprocessors in tractors with its new MF 3000 Series Autotronic and Datatronic models. 10+ Parts continues to offer its lifetime of support for these classic models.

Another milestone for 1986 was the introduction of the MF 300 Series replacing the MF 600 Series introduced 5 years earlier. The Coventry built tractor was truly a global machine with a wide range of specifications capable of meeting the requirements of the broadest spectrum of global agriculture.

The 10+ Parts programme is ideal to ensure you keep your MF tractor as it should be, original!
